FROM THE EDITOR

After a lazy summer, come September my family is back on a schedule. (I function much better with a consistent routine.) By 7:00am, nearly everybody is up and by 7:30am, dressed, eaten and beds made.. I make lunches and try to get ready for the day as well. I love the excitement of fall. The first days of school, the cooler weather, the beautiful colors and the smells wafting in the air... Here in NM, there are so many familiar smells that I love.. Roasting green chili, wet fallen leaves, burning weeds and fireplaces all lit up. I also love the smell of soup warming on the stove top, and cookies baking in the oven. We seem to be outdoors more in the fall picking pumpkins and apples and somany other treats from grandmas garden. I even love the sounds of fall! Crunching leaves under my feet, the gas from the hot air balloons over head, the birds flying south screeching and squawking, kids yelling trick or treat, and the laughter of my family as our gatherings become more frequent. My senses come alive in the fall. I am more aware of my surroundings and become even more thankful for all that I have... Fall is a magical time of year for us, I love all that it means to me and my family. I love bringing that magic to my pages, and being able to record those feelings in my journaling.. in hopes of never forgetting what I need to be thankful for... What magic do you bring to your pages?

Halloween Charm Tree by Melinda Staley

You can make your own adorable Halloween charms to use on a tree jewelry... the possibilities are endless! Ink-Jet Shrinky Dink Sheets make this project a snap!

Supplies:

Spookable and Halloween Friends by Dani Mogstad

Shrinky-Dinks Inkjet sheets by K & B Innovations

1/8 inch ribbon by Offray

7mm jump rings by Darice

1. Adjust elements to be printed to 50% transparency- the colors will darken during the shrinking process, so don't worry if they seem too light initially.

2. The Shrinky-Dink sheets are sized at 8x10 inches, so design on 8x10 canvas, and print at 95% if you don't have a marginless printer to account for paper feed. Adjust margins so full image achieved in printing- I used the following: top 0.2 inches. left 0.3 inches.

3. Make sure you are printing on the correct side of the Shrinky-Dink plastic- the coated side that accepts ink has a slightly wavy appearance and very small tacky feel when pressure is applied.

4. For jewelry size holes, use an 1/8 inch hole punch BEFORE baking

5. Let cookie sheet get hot in the oven before adding the shapes- they shrink faster and flatter if they go onto a hot pan. Parchment paper or a piece of brown paper bag on the pan will help keep the shapes from sticking during shrinking.

6. Shapes shrink to about 1/3 of their original size. Elements that were printed at 3 inches in size ended up just a little over an inch in size after shrinking.

Beautiful SUMMER day

Makayla, on a beautiful summer day you, Mommy and Nicholas headed to the park so that Mommy could do a little 'photo shoot' with you. You were a great sport and put up with Mommy asking you to pose this way and that. Mommy took some really great photos of you, but with such a beautiful girl, and on such a beautiful summer day, it was pretty much guaranteed.

Remember

in the morning...

Ok, so no Makayla, this photo wasn't taken at 4 in the morning, but it was the morning of your 4th birthday. This was the first photo that Mommy took of you that morning, and you had this adorable look on your beautiful face. Happy 4th Birthday Makayla!

Christa
Hobin

Hi, I am Christa! I am a 28 year old stay at home Mom to two wonderful kids. Makayla is 4.5 years old, and Nicholas is 2.5 years old. My hubby, Michael, and I have been married for almost 6 years. We live in Ontario, Canada. I tried paper scrapping but just hated dealing with the mess it made, it just wasn't for me. Then I discovered digital scrapbooking in 2005 but didn't actually begin doing it until January 2006. I have been hooked ever since! Not only is it a great hobby where I can get my creative juices flowing, but it is helping to document my children's childhood, something that I find very important. I am so excited to be a guest for Dani this month, thank you so much for the opportunity!
